Nanotechnology Research Coordination Group

Dr Steven Hill

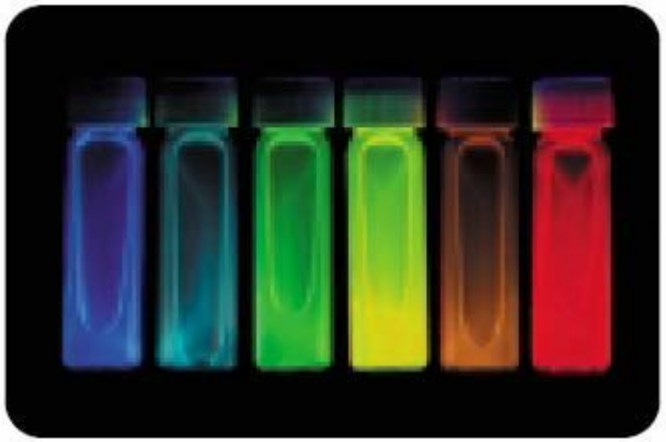
Science, Economics and Statistics
Directorate General

Defra

Department for Environment
Food and Rural Affairs

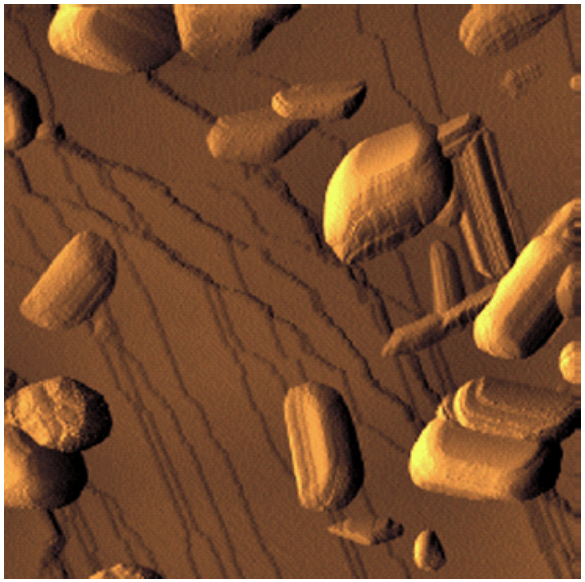
Outline

- Setting up NRCG
- What and who is NRCG?
- Work of NRCG
- Stakeholder involvement



defra
Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs

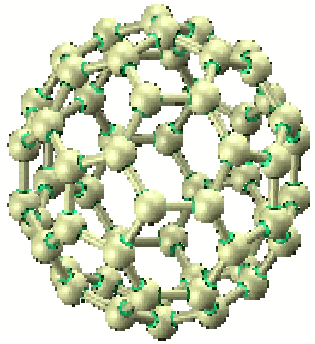
Setting up NRCG



- RS/RAE report
- Nanotech risks and regulation
- Government and Research Councils
- Process to scope, undertake and report regulatory risk research

defra
Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs

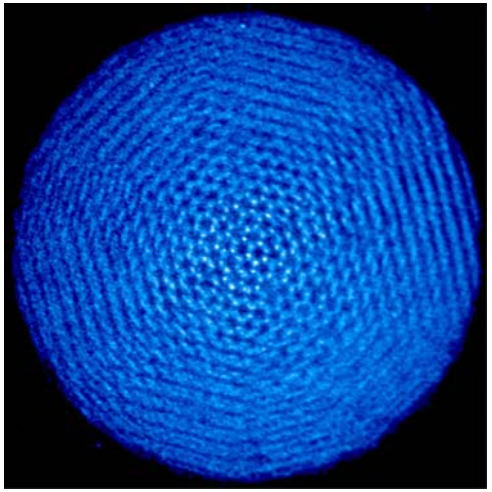
Stakeholder Involvement



- Open and transparent process
- Stakeholder input to research and regulatory activities
- Two meetings planned – July & autumn
- Industry, academic/expert, NGO, think tank

defra
Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs

Stakeholder Involvement - Aims



- Continue dialogue on nanotech research/regulation
- Input wider views
- Transparency in developing regulation
- Clarify and challenge perspectives and concerns

defra
Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs

Summary

- NRCG – regulatory risk research
- Involvement of stakeholders – open, inclusive and ongoing process
- First report in autumn 2005

defra
Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs