PHILOSOPHICAL TRANSACTIONS A

Influential themed journal issues across the physical, mathematical and engineering sciences

GUEST EDIT AN ISSUE IN YOUR RESEARCH FIELD TO:

Create a novel, lasting synthesis for your field.

Facilitate the discussion of opposing ideas and opinions.

Bring together a range of contributions from across subject areas.

Build your personal network with other leading scientists.

Gain editorial experience with full support from dedicated Royal Society staff.

Reach a wide international readership.

"It was a rewarding experience for various reasons, including bringing together interdisciplinary fields of research, various new contacts, and getting to know some of the recent works thoroughly."

Dr Soumyajyoti Biswas, Max Planck Institute of Dynamics and Self-Organization.

OTHER BENEFITS

- Flexibility with article types.
- Open access available.
- No page or colour charges.
- Partnerships with Dryad, Figshare and Publons.
- High production standards; professional proof-readers used.
- Bespoke promotion provided by the Editorial Office.
- Support from an influential Editorial Board.
- Join the authorship history of the world's longest-running scientific journal.

THE GUEST EDITING PROCESS

- Prospective Guest Editors recruit authors and prepare a proposal.
- Proposal peer reviewed and assessed by the journal's Editors.
- Proposal approved; schedule agreed and authors informed by Guest Editors and Editorial Office.
- Guest Editors handle peer review and make decisions, using online platform.
- All papers published together as complete issue.

RECENT THEME ISSUES INCLUDE:

- Urban flood resilience, edited by Richard Fenner.
- Numerical algorithms for high-performance computational science, edited by Jack Dongarra, Laura Grigori and Nicholas J Higham.
- Coupling functions: dynamical interaction mechanisms in the physical, biological and social sciences, edited by Tomislav Stankovski, Tiago Pereira, Peter V E McClintock and Aneta Stefanovska.
- Fifty years of synchrotron science: achievements and opportunities, edited by Samar Hasnain and Richard A Catlow.

THE ROYAL SOCIETY PUBLISHING

DES6812