

INTERNATIONAL MOBILITY CAN BENEFIT BOTH SOURCE AND DESTINATION COUNTRIES

BENEFITS TO THE UK:

high quality researchers

access to mix of skills

wider supply of well-qualified researchers development of international networks

BENEFITS TO SOURCE COUNTRIES:

access to networks and skills

UK host to many MCSA and to many doctoral students, many of whom will return home with skills, knowledge and networks of foreign-born researchers report on-going research collaborations with researchers in their countries of origin

Read more:

International mobility of researchers—a review of the literature
Susan Guthrie, Catherine Lichten, Jennie Corbett and Steven Wooding