

The Royal Society medals and awards

Overview

The Royal Society has a broad range of medals including the Premier Awards, subject specific awards and medals celebrating the communication and promotion of science. All of these work to recognise and celebrate excellence in science. The following document provides guidance in the eligibility criteria for the awards, the nomination process and online nomination system Flexi-Grant.

Eligibility

Awards are open to citizens of a Commonwealth country or of the Irish Republic or those who have been ordinarily resident and working in a Commonwealth country or in the Irish Republic for a minimum of three years immediately prior to being proposed. Three of our Premier Awards are open internationally and the Milner Award is open to European citizens and residents of 12 months or more. Full details of eligibility can be found in the Appendix.

Nominees cannot be members of the Royal Society Council, Premier Awards Committee, or the relevant selection committee. More information on the selection committees for individual medals can be found in the Appendix. If the award is externally funded, nominees cannot be employed by the organisation funding the medal. Self-nominations are not accepted and members of the selection committee cannot nominate individuals for their own awards.

Nominations are valid for three cycles of the award unless otherwise stated. Nominators are given the opportunity to update nominations in December each year.

The full list of medals that will be open in November 2018 are:

- Copley Medal
- Royal Medals (biological, physical and applied)
- Croonian Medal and Lecture
- Bakerian Medal and Lecture
- Buchanan Medal
- Clifford Paterson Medal and Lecture
- Darwin Medal
- Davy Medal
- Ferrier Medal and Lecture
- Francis Crick Medal and Lecture
- Gabor Medal
- Hughes Medal
- Kavli Medal and Lecture
- Leeuwenhoek Medal and Lecture
- Leverhulme Medal
- Michael Faraday Prize and Lecture
- Royal Society Africa Prize
- Royal Society Milner Award and Lecture
- Royal Society Mullard Award
- Royal Society Rosalind Franklin Award and Lecture
- Rumford Medal
- Sylvester Medal
- Wilkins-Bernal-Medawar Medal and Lecture

Nomination process

Call for nominations

- The call for nominations opens on the Royal Society's Anniversary Day – 30 November 2018.
- Nominations are open until 15:00 GMT on 28 January 2019.
- Self-nominations are not accepted and members of the selection committee cannot nominate individuals for their own awards.

Review process

- Once nominations have closed two references are sought for all Royal Society medals and awards.
- Following referencing, all nominations are scored by the relevant selection committee. These scores are confidential and will be discussed by the relevant selection committee at a selection meeting held in the spring.
- Reference requests are confidential and only shared with the selection committee.

Approval of awards

- Following the selection committee meetings, recommendations for the majority of medals are made to the Premier Awards Committee for approval. More information on the selection committees for individual medals can be found in the Appendix. Please note not all of the medals listed in the Appendix will be opened this award cycle.
- Final approval is made by the Royal Society Council in May.
- The Royal Medal winners are subject to Her Majesty's approval which is normally received by July.

Notification of outcome

- It is expected successful winners and nominators will be informed by email in June.
- The Royal Medal winners and nominators will be informed in July following Her Majesty's approval.
- Unsuccessful nominations are not notified as most nominations are valid for three cycles of the medal. Nominators will be reminded to update nominations in December, in preparation for the next call for nominations. At this point nominators of expired submissions will also be notified.

Guidance notes for completing the nomination form

All nominations must be submitted using Flexi-Grant. If you do not have a Flexi-Grant account, please begin by creating an account here by clicking on "Register". If you already have an account, please select "Login". Once you have successfully created your account and logged in, you will be able to start an application for any medal and awards for which nominations are currently open.

When entering your contact information, please check that your organisation is already registered in Flexi-Grant by typing the name in the "lookup my organisation" section. If your organisation is not in our system, please email awards@royalsociety.org so we can add it. You will not be able to complete an application without this, so please email us right away so we can add this for you in good time.

Starting a nomination

- Once logged into the system the nominator can select which medal they are submitting a nomination for.

- Nominations can be saved to return to at any point before the deadline for nominations.

Nominator contact details (Page 1)

After clicking “Start” on the appropriate medal or award, you will be asked to confirm your contact details and organisational details as these will help track the nomination.

Nominee contact details (Page 2)

On the Nominee contact details page, please add the nominee’s contact details.

- Nominators are invited to provide information on why the nominee should be considered for the medal, a brief summary of the nominee’s career history and a statement of support.
- Nominators are also required to list the nominee’s most significant achievements and contributions to science (maximum of 20 examples). Achievements and contributions may include commercialisation, entrepreneurial or industrial impacts, patents, open data sets, influence on policy outcomes, public engagement, collaborations or individuals instructed, methodological improvements, publications, etc.
- Please note that a number of awards (the Royal Society Africa Prize and the Royal Society Rosalind Franklin Award and Lecture) require the nominee to submit a project proposal and some additional information. Further details can be found on the relevant award pages.

Declaration (Page 4)

- Nominators are asked to receive positive consent from the nominees to share personal and career information with the Royal Society prior to submitting any applications.
- Nominators are asked to confirm that they have checked that the nationality of the nominee conforms to the eligibility criteria requirements (see Appendix for eligibility criteria).

Referees (Pages 5 and 6)

- Nominators are required to submit two referees for the nominee. These will be requested once nominations have closed and are shared with the relevant selection committee.
- Referees should be as independent as possible – i.e. not from the same department, nor have published/ collaborated together with the nominee in the last 5 years. The referees should also not be a member of the relevant selection committee (see Appendix for information on which is the relevant selection committee) nor a member of the Council of the Royal Society.

Marketing (Page 7)

- Nominators are required to state how they found out about the call for nominations. This information is used to help us market the call for nominations in future years.

Submitting the application

- Once all required fields have been completed the button in the top right will change from ‘nomination incomplete’ to ‘submit’.
- When satisfied with the nomination, confirm submission by clicking submit. Please note it is not possible to edit the nomination once submitted.
- An email should be received confirming receipt of the nomination. It is also possible to view the nomination once submitted and download a PDF copy.

Enquiries

For any further enquiries about the submission of nominations or any other matters related to the Royal Society's awards, please contact the Scientific Programmes Team, The Royal Society, 6-9 Carlton House Terrace, London, SW1Y 5AG, by email to awards@royalsociety.org or calling 020 7451 2213.
